Before I entered the marathon circle- my favorite topic to draw about, is "Memories from the past" It was because I was in love with RPNG's back then. After I joined the circle, I never had the chance to draw it since. 15 years later I finally achieved my dream! Thank you to all those that helped me.....

!NOTICE!

There's might be some questions on the characters' names, so I'll throw in an explanation here. But First,

Half Prince is a chinese manual!

Ok, read on now~

Pinyin/Direct Translation

1. Direct translation was used in Half Prince. It was used instead of pinyin because:

a. "Prince" was better for, so I thought it'd be better to stick with it. :D

b. Free changed it to prince, names like Prince Lo (Lingpo) High Half Owl etc. will be changed to "Orange" Xian (orange) Xue (ang. Xue) (bright red) for the actual paper, but along those lines Prince Free (an paper, the meaning of the name would also be understood) just sounds weird (prince Xue?)

Ok but what you find would be better than :D

c. Japanese characters was used because I don't think movies would be used to "Go for my brother" "Go for brother etc.

ABOUT THIS CHAPTER

1. Page 12, "Death..." "Death..."

a. The "Death" part. Not exactly what the user meant it to be. Just a note. (part) (death) (death) to replace it. X. The phrase was meant to be a mix of "Death is more painful than thought" and "Death is a painful moment of pain" So it's just a.
